

DRAMA AND MUSIC
THEATER BILL

"Madame X" and "Ambition" to Vie With Music Comedy
"Girles."

The original New York company in "Madame X," known as "the supreme drama of thrills and mother-love," is the Belasco bill for next week.

"Madame X," as described by Alexander H. Wilson, its author, as a life document rather than a drama. It was wrought out during the thirty years or more its author was engaged in the construction of fables and comic pieces, in which he attained his reputation.

So thoroughly identified had he become with this class of entertainment that when he announced that he had written a serious play, he was greeted with a laugh. The company is headed by Dorothy Donnelly and William Elliott.

COLUMBIA—"Ambition."

Elise Ferguson, pleasantly remembered for her work last season in "Such a Little Queen," will appear next week at the Columbia in a new four-act play entitled "Ambition."

The piece is by Byron Ongle, co-author of "Brewster's Millions." The locale is New York. The characters are time, and the characters are American. The story concerns a young girl's false conception of the rewards to be gained by pursuing a career. She believes that it is possible for her to be happy without that love which is so essentially a part of every woman's life.

The cast includes Frank Mills, William Harrigan, Grant Stewart, Lawrence Eddinger, and Stuart Robson, Jr.

NATIONAL—"Girles."

"Girles," Frederic Thompson's musical production, will succeed Miss Henrietta Crossman at the National Theater next Monday.

"Girles" was one of New York's summer shows, and it will be seen here by Joseph Cawthorn, Maude Raymond, and every other member of the Gotham cast.

"Girles" represents Frederic Thompson's debut in the field of musical comedy production. It is a travesty on the Portuguese Insurrection, a lately added feature in "Girles."

CHASE—"Polite Vaudeville."

Chase's next week offers Alice Lloyd, Clara Belle Jerome, William Seymour, and the Eight Toodles, Conroy and Le Maire, Victor Niblo's Talking Birds, the Four Konez Bros., Verona and Alvin Verdi, Claude Ruff, and "The Deputy's Duty."

Alice Lloyd ranks as one of England's greatest singing comedienne. Her lyric repertoire will include "Three Ages of Women," "Lovelight," "Ship Ahoy," "Splash Me," "Mr. Cupid" and others. Miss Jerome was long with the Danes' comic operas and Mr. Seymour is a Broadway favorite. They will play Augustus Solih's musical comedy "Joyland."

ACADEMY—"The Turning Point."

Preston Gibson's Southern romantic comedy drama, "The Turning Point," will be at the Academy next week.

"The Turning Point" was originally produced in New York last spring. Its story is up-to-date. Mr. Gibson chose for the locale his old home outside of Alexandria, Va.

GAYETY—"Star and Garter Show."

The new "Star and Garter Show" is the offering at the Gayety Theater next week.

The company this season numbers forty, mostly girls. A new musical satire, entitled "The Flirting Widow," is the vehicle. Heading the cast is Abe Reynolds, the "magical comedian," while supporting him are Jack Conway, Dave and Lew, George Betts, Vera Shelby, Nonie Reynolds, and Neva Don Carlos, a newcomer in burlesque. A debutante in burlesque is Alta Phipps, who plays the widow. As an extra attraction Felix Adler is announced.

LYCEUM—"Rector Burlesquers."

The "Rector Burlesquers," heralded as a musical offering of progressive ideas, is billed for the Lyceum Theater next week. The plot deals with a series of complications that befell a party of adventurers in search of "The South Pole." Much though has been given to the musical numbers and the dialogue.

The company is headed by James Francis Sullivan. An extra feature will be the Bizarro Trio.

CASINO—Vaudeville.

The vaudeville bill for next week at the Casino theater is headed by the St. Jordans' living statues in bronze, realistically representing in a still life manner masterpieces of world-famed sculptors. George Harcourt and Company will appear in a sketch, "The Littlest Girl," two trained dogs, Yankee and Dixie, appear by themselves in feats of animal intelligence; Hanson and Giles, eccentric comedians; Delaney and Waldman, song and dance entertainers; Kathryn Kay, comedienne, and motion picture complete the bill.

COSMOS—Vaudeville.

Heading a bill of approved vaudeville at the Cosmos for next week is the comedy-dramatic playlet, "The Four Leaf Clover," with Robert Hildreth and his associate players.

The story is laid in the California farm regions during the present day, and is presented with live stock and special scenery and effects. "Beauty and the Beast" is the title of a novelty design for children. Ward and Cullen, Helen Chipman, Clement and Eshell, and Frank Rice are included on the bill.

ARCADE—General Amusements.

The management of the Arcade skating auditorium today decided to introduce roller polo, as an added attraction in the near future. A number of the best players in this vicinity have been signed to represent Washington in inter-city contests to be arranged later. The director of the hall room is also arranging an interesting card for the winter months.

GERMAN-IRISH NIGHT AT FLORISTS' SHOW

"German-Irish Night" at the Florists and Householders' Show at Convention Hall will be celebrated tomorrow evening, having been postponed from last night because of the rain.

Tonight will be "society night." Every woman attending the home-baking exhibition will be given a sack of flour.

PANAMA CELEBRATES.

PANAMA, Nov. 3.—The anniversary of the independence of Panama was observed today with the customary festivities, which will be continued until the end of the week. Americans and natives alike are looking forward with much interest to the coming visit of President Taft.

Campaign At Nagging Stage,
With the Colonel Scapegoat.

FROM EVERY SIDE

Republican Leaders Declare Attacks on Dix and Murphy Will Never Win Any Votes.

By JOHN SNURE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The campaign has got to the fault-finding stage. This is seen in New York by the disposition of many of the New York Republicans to find fault with the sort of campaign Roosevelt has been making in this State.

New York doesn't have a monopoly on it, however. Reports from Massachusetts are that the Republicans there are blaming Roosevelt for the fact that the fight they have on their hands has become serious. And from Indiana comes word that some of the Republicans there are disposed to think Roosevelt would have done the Republicans good by keeping out of the State and by omitting to call Judge Anderson by such gentle terms as "crook and jack-ass."

It needs no prophet to perceive that if there is a general sweep all along the line against the Republicans on November 8, and they wake up November 9 and find themselves far up that ancient stream, Salt Creek, deep buried in the snow drifts, with a chill outlook for 1912, there will be more harsh words used at the expense of Theodore Roosevelt than he has ever had applied against him in an equal space of time. In such an event, the colonel will, doubtless, do well to retire for the time being to Oyster Bay, as he says he will, and there meditate and have the papers censored before he pursues them.

"Old Guard" Complains.

The fault-finding on the part of New York Republicans against the Roosevelt campaign proceeds largely from the men who are of the "old guard" or are well disposed toward it, or who are strongly inclined toward President Taft. It takes the form of objections to the Roosevelt notion of going up and down the State hammering Tammany and the alliance of Tammany and Dix; also of Wall Street and Tammany, and big business and crooked politics. Some of the Republicans insist that the real way to have made the Republican campaign was to have gone before the voters and talked prosperity, defended the tariff law and preached the large achievements of the Taft Administration.

One of the foremost of the New York Republicans, who is doing the campaign, himself a candidate for the House, talked about this today. He said it did no good in his district to talk about Tammany having named Dix because the voters would at once ask: "Didn't Murphy pick out Gaynor?" It could not be denied, said this politician, that Murphy had selected Gaynor and inasmuch as the voters were convinced Gaynor had made good and was a great gain, there was no room for argument about Dix.

Knife For Stimson.

Beyond any question, there is going to be a great deal of knifeing of Stimson by Republicans in this State. The Republican situation is not as bad as it was right after the Saratoga convention. Then, many of the "old guard" went home vowing not to support Stimson who have since been won over. But many of them haven't been won over. They are as bitter and implacable as ever.

One hears many rumors of conspiracies among Republicans to "do up" Stimson, not on account of Stimson, but on account of Roosevelt. Old-time Republicans who think Roosevelt wants the crown meet at dinners and sit around in their parlors nights talking about how to down the colonel. If ever the inside history of the plot-

Campaign now at the fault-finding stage, with most of the criticism directed at Roosevelt.

"Old Guard" in New York, and sympathizers, condemn Roosevelt methods of campaigning, in anticipation of defeat at the polls. Anti-Roosevelt and Anti-Stimson men restrained from greater activities only by the reluctance to come out in the open and work against Republican candidates.

Unprecedented silence maintained by voters as to their intentions on election day mystifying and worrying to campaign leaders.

Things of the anti-Roosevelt Republicans in this campaign is written, it will be reached to numerous men high in office and in the party.

One thing, however, that interferes with the operations of most prominent Republicans who want to see Stimson beaten, is that they haven't the nerve to get out openly and work against him. Comparatively few will go as far as this.

Official Optimism.

State Chairman Prentice for the Republicans is talking about 50,000 to 100,000 for the Republicans. His optimism in saying that Stimson is going to be elected by such a plurality makes most other politicians smile.

What the shrewdest of the Republican leaders do say when talking freely about the doubts and difficulties of the situation is that Stimson seems to be getting stronger and they have hopes of seeing him pull through by a narrow margin. They admit there will be a falling off in the Republican vote up-State, and say that right now the strategic point is in Greater New York, especially Manhattan.

They believe the efforts of Roosevelt have helped on the east side, and that the laboring men and a big percentage of the young men are going to vote for Stimson.

In the polls the Republicans have taken, they have found invariably a large element of voters who have nothing to say. They refuse to tell how they'll vote. This fact is mystifying and disquieting to Republican leaders.

Election Eve Gloom.

One thing encouraging to the Republicans is that in a number of campaigns in this State in recent years the cry has gone up that the Republicans were beaten in the early part of the night. Yet, they have just managed to get through.

For instance, it was expected that Roosevelt himself would be beaten for governor in 1908, up to the last few days of the campaign.

In 1902, Governor B. B. Odell was accounted a beaten man, yet he won. Hughes, in 1905, was considered beaten, but he won.

On the one hand, it is clear that disunion talk before election in New York has frequently been found to mean little. On the other hand, a study of the Republican pluralities in the years that in 1888, 1902, and 1906 the Republicans have not much of a margin of safety.

Those who are confident of Democratic victory in New York this year point out that in 1888, 1902, and 1906 the Republicans were united and the Democrats divided. Now they say, the Republicans are at loggerheads and the Democrats are united.

But for all that, the polls show there is going to be a considerable drift of progressive Democrats to Stimson, and as pointed out heretofore, this is one of the factors in the campaign which is extremely difficult to determine.

BERNHARDT TO PLAY FLIGHTS POSTPONED
IN "MADAME X" ROLE AT BALTIMORE MEET

Will Speak Lines In French, Wind and Rain Cause. Tournament Will Be Extended.

During her present tour of America, Madame Sarah Bernhardt will use in her repertoire "Madame X."

This announcement was made today following the granting of permission to use the Hisson drama by Henry W. Savage, who owns the American rights. The drama was originally designed by its author, Alexandre Bisson, for Madame Bernhardt. A combination of circumstances, however, prevented her appearing in it and rather than delay the Parisian production of it the role was entrusted to Madame Jane Hading.

It is planned some time during the season to have Madame Bernhardt appear in the role with Henry W. Savage's original American company as her support, appearing once in the place of Dorothy Donnelly, and speaking her lines in French, just as Tomasso Salvini did on his American tours.

FIREMAN PROMOTED.

The Commissioners today approved the recommendation of Chief Wagner, of the Fire Department, that J. B. Dutton be promoted from private of class 1 to private of class 2. J. W. Earle is appointed private of class 1.

NEIGHBORS TO CARE FOR LITTLE ORPHANS

Tuxedo Residents Discuss
Welfare of Grey Children.

It will not be the fault of the citizens of Tuxedo, Md., if the five little Grey children who were made orphans by the railroad accident which killed their father and mother on Saturday last, have to struggle hard for the necessities of life.

As a result of a mass meeting held in the school house at Tuxedo last night a committee composed of J. M. P. McGraw, F. P. Farr, J. P. Pryor, and Mrs. MacKeon, aunt of the children, has been appointed to look after the children's welfare and to see that money which is being contributed by generous citizens of Washington and the towns near Tuxedo is well expended.

All funds received by this committee will be devoted to the immediate help of the children, while those taken up on the subscription lists in Washington will be devoted to the lifting of the mortgage of $500 which now hangs over the Grey home. With the lifting of this incumbrance the home will belong entirely to the children. They will not be able to dispose of it until they become of age, but neither will it cost them anything in taxes, for by the laws of Maryland a home held for minors is not subject to taxation.

The subscription list already exceeds $500. With the money a mortgage on the home must be met, the children must be fed and clothed during the coming winter and the subsequent education of the little ones must be arranged for.

A number of persons have identified their intention of taking care of the children in their own homes, and not a few letters have been received offering to adopt the younger members of the family. It is thought better, at the present time, however, to keep the five children together.

BIG OPIUM SEIZURE.

HONOLULU, Nov. 3.—Opium valued at $12,000 has been seized, and two customs officers arrested for alleged complicity to smuggle the drug, which was found in the trunk of a passenger on the steamship Mongolian, just arrived from San Francisco. United States District Attorney Robert W. Breckons directed the proceedings.

RECIPE FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

The following recipe is the best that can be had for weak or disordered kidneys: "Half ounce fluid extract Buchu; half ounce Mux compound; six ounces good pure gin. Shake the bottle well each time and use in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal. Any druggist will mix or supply these ingredients."

The foregoing formula comes from high medical authority and will produce quick and permanent results. It will speedily relieve backache, rheumatic pains, frequent and highly colored urination. These symptoms of kidney trouble must have prompt attention to prevent Bright's disease or diabetes.
